Book Chats are a time to discuss the novel that you have read at home. In order to encourage discussion, you will be asked to complete several tasks before and during the Book Chat. These tasks include: creating an original illustration, contributing questions for discussion and performing a job that will be assigned to you.

HERE ARE THE SPECIFICS:

- Illustration: Create an original illustration of an important event or particularly meaningful event that made you think deeply about, have strong feelings, or connect to the story or characters.
- Questions: Write 5 THICK questions that will promote discussion in your group. These questions will be compiled and you will later respond to several of your choosing.
- J-O-B: Perform your assigned job according to the specific directions that you are given.

HELPFUL INFORMATION:

- Complete reading the book by November 25, 2012
- Questions should be handed in by November 29, 2012
- Bring in ALL of your work on the morning of the BOOK CHAT, Thursday, December 6, 2012
