

LINCOLN SCHOOL

P R O V I D E N C E

Ashley Rappa
Director of Marketing & Communications
Lincoln School
401-455-1195
arappa@lincolnschool.org

October 23, 2018

For Immediate Release:

Lincoln School Launches Strategic Advisory Board Industry Experts Join Bold Leaders in All-Girls Education

Providence, RI (October 23, 2018)—Lincoln School, a local and national leader in all-girls education, is pleased to announce the formation of the Lincoln School Strategic Advisory Board. The board is comprised of national and international thought leaders, experts, and innovators from business, academia, and government who provide advice and counsel to Head of School Suzanne Fogarty and school leadership.

This small, diverse group of professionals lend their deep experience, unique perspective, and skills to the Lincoln School community, strengthening and furthering the school's mission as a bold institution dedicated to providing opportunities for students that girls simply can't get anywhere else. From technology to the highest levels of national politics, from women in the global economy to gender in the media, this core group of outstanding innovators opens up new opportunities for students and actively broadens Lincoln's reach.

"Lincoln School has long been an academic powerhouse where girls thrive, and the intellectual strength and professional accomplishments of the new Lincoln School Strategic Advisory Board takes our mission to the next level," said Suzanne Fogarty, head of Lincoln School. "This carefully assembled group of global thought leaders were appointed because of their expertise in their chosen fields, and their dedication to preparing Lincoln students for the world, and the world for Lincoln students."

Appointments to the Lincoln School Strategic Advisory Board:

Kenneth Duberstein: CEO, The Duberstein Group. Former White House Chief of Staff, Reagan Administration

Madonna Badger: Chief Creative Officer/Founder of Badger and Winters Agency

Reshma Saujani: Founder and CEO of Girls Who Code

Sophie Houser: Co-author of “Girl Code: Gaming, Going Viral, and Getting it Done” and Brown University Student

Rich Verma: Vice Chairman, The Asia Group. Former United States Ambassador to India, Obama Administration

Joan Countryman: Chair, Board of Directors, Kendal Corporation. Former Head of School, Oprah Winfrey Leadership Academy and Lincoln School

Adrienne Penta: Executive Director of The Center for Women & Wealth

Denise Clark Pope: Author; Co-founder of Challenge Success; Senior Lecturer, Stanford University

Pradeep Sharma: Director, Salama bint Hamdan Al Nayhan Foundation; Former Provost, Rhode Island School of Design

The Lincoln School Strategic Advisory board allows Lincoln’s leadership to benefit from a worldwide network of advisors on an informal, flexible, and as-needed basis.

The advisory board aims to:

- Offer advice and counsel on matters related to mission, curriculum, and strategic initiatives
- Identify and engage potential partnerships or opportunities for the school
- Assist in cementing Lincoln School’s reputation as a top all-girls’ independent school founded on Quaker values

ABOUT LINCOLN SCHOOL:

LINCOLN SCHOOL
P R O V I D E N C E

Lincoln School is an all-girls Quaker independent school for grades K–12 and co-ed infant–PreK located on the East Side of Providence. #boldminds Learn more at www.lincolnschool.org

MEDIA CONTACT:

To find out more please contact Ashley Rappa at Lincoln School at 401-455-1195 or arappa@lincolnschool.org.